

CSU PUBLIC NOTICE OF NONDISCRIMINATION

It is the policy of Chicago State University to prohibit any form of discrimination, harassment (including sexual harassment), and sexual violence of students and employees.

Admission to Chicago State University is open to any individual who meets the institution's open admissions policy. Applicants for admission or employment, students, employees, sources of referral of applicants for admission and employment, and all unions or professional organizations holding collective bargaining or professional agreements with the University are hereby notified that this institution is committed to non-discrimination on the basis of race, color, gender, ethnic or national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, marital or parental status, religion, age, ancestry, mental or physical disability, military status or veteran status in admission or access to, or treatment or employment in its programs and activities. Lack of English language skill is not a barrier to admission and participation in educational programs and activities. This includes, but is not limited to admissions, employment, financial assistance, placement, recruitment, and educational programs or activities as required by applicable laws and regulations.

Any person having inquiries regarding special needs, support services, or Chicago State University's compliance with the regulations implementing the Civil Rights Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 is directed to the Chicago State University Office of Compliance and/or the Title IX Coordinator by calling (773) 995-2462 or the Department of Human Resources by calling (773) 995-2040. Complaints may also be filed with the U.S. Department of Education, Office for Civil Rights at: <https://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/index.html> or calling their Customer Service Hotline #: (800) 421-3481.
